to futter; half helpless, into the gutters, where they hopped about, gaping listlessly and unable to get out of the way of the urchins who chased them.

Vegetable dealers complained bitterly to their patrons of the impossibility of making their stocks seem attractive. One of them explained it by saying that all growing things had an under allowance owing things had an undue allowance water during the June rains and were full as soaked sponges. They were there-fore in the worst possible condition to resist the swettering heat when it came, just as a fat man who drinks beer in this weather orture to himself and an abomination

Reports from all the metropolitan dis-Reports from all the metropolitan district show that there has been an unusual pest of mesquitoes since the hot weather began. Certainly the city has been invaded by them as it seldom is. Last summer, and in the early part of the present season, there were unusual efforts to do away with mesquitoes in many places by oiling pends and marshy places with larvæ-killing liquids. Until the present hot weather began the makers and users of these devices were highly delighted with the success of their work; their voices have now been drowned by the hum of the rising clouds of mesquitoes.

clouds of mesquitoes.

The long wet spell, followed by the great heat, seems to have been wonderfully helpful to insect growth. A diner in a Fifth avenue restaurant the other day created mixed emotions among those who were in the place by producing a cigarette box from which he transferred two mosquitoes to an inverted tumbler. Both of them were as big as yellow-jackets. He made proclamation to all who seemed interested that he had caught them on a train in New Jersey.

Jersey.

The deaths reported as due to the heat follow:

MANHATTAN. BREWEN, WILLIAM, 55, 343 West Forty nintl JONES, JAMES, 40, 221 Thompson street. KBLLY, Mrs. MARY, 60, 280 Tenth avenue. LANGER, Mrs. ANNIE, 46, 1886 Second avenue. LANGER, Mrs. LUCINDA R., 236 East Thirtlett

MAGLIORI, VINCENZO, 26, 2197 First avenue. MASSITT, SUSAN, 38, servant at 37 West Fifty sixth street.

Miller, Mrs. Catherine, 55, 322 East Fifty fourth street. TATONI, TINCONIO, 40, 280 Mulberry street. TORREE, WILLIAM A., 65, 38 Jackson street. Unidentified man supposed to be George Lauter-bach of 330 East Ninety third street.

BROOKLYN.

BROWN, AGNES, 10 Weeks, 347 Baltic street.
BROWN, MUNNON S., 70, 691 Macon street.
CONTESSA, VINCENZO, 3 months, 62 Baxter street
Manhattan; died under the Old Iron Pier, Coney Island. MANLY, JOHN, 40, 207 North Sixth street.

CAMPING IN THE PARKS.

Hundreds of Folks Sient on the City Grass Plots Last Night. Even if people did suffer from the heat while the sun was roasting everybody and everything yesterday, New York's tenement population had a good chance for a cool evening. That was by courtesy of the Park

Thousands of people went to Central Park and the smaller parks on the lower East Side last evening. Men, women and children all spread out on the grass. While the men dozed, smoked and chatted, the women watched their babies sleep, and everybody kept pretty comfortably cool. The police had little trouble in keeping Park Commissioner Willcox gave instructions yesternay afternoon that women in Manhattan during the heated term, regardless of "keep off the grass" signs.

The Commissioner said that his idea was to allow the people to get as much comfort as possible during the hot weather, even if the grass was injured somewhat. He let it be understood, however, that the children ought not to abuse the privilege by plucking flowers or breaking shrubbery, and the police were instructed to keep a sharp eye on the people to see that they did this city not injure things."

The Commissioner was informed that a number of men slept in Battery Park on Thursday night and he said:

idea and the parks would be a cool place faces and arms. The bugs were very nuin which to sleep these hot nights. There is no reason why men should not sleep there under police restrictions."

He then called up acting Police Commissioner Ebstein and had a talk with him about the matter and orders were issued to the police not to disturb park slumberers in the night time as long as the hot weather continued.

Fully 1,200 of New York's Jewish population of the lower East Side camped out last night in Tompkins Square and Hamilton Fish parks. At midnight there were about 1.000 people in the first park. Almost all of them came in family groups, at least one of which numbered fourteen by actual count. They brought shawls and pillows to make their lawn beds easier.

In the Tompkins Square camp the families all herded together in a neighborly way, instead of spreading out in different corners for seclusion.

Hamilton Fish Park, at Stanton and Houston streets, was not by any means prepared as a city bed, but at least 200 persons went there to sleep just the same. The western half of the Park has just been sodded and the Park Department people had to keep everybody off that part. The other half, which will be a playground, is covered with crushed rock, which will be the bed of a macadamized floor. Those who wished to sleep in that park had to sleep on the crushed rock. The fact that 200 persons preferred the rough park bed to their own beds, astonished the police. But those who stayed there seemed not to mind it.

Only a few people went to Central Park to sleep and almost all of those left very soon because the mosquitoes were thick.

KEEP YOUR COAT ON, PLEASE. Propriety Asserts Itself in the Halls of the Tribune Building. That stern and lofty sense of propried which has distinguished the Tribune for generations has asserted it elf against the shameless shirt-waist habit. Since the elevators and in each hall.

NOTICE.

Tenants and their employees are respectfully requested to wear their coats while riding in the elevators or passing through the main halls. H. N. KELLOGG, Business Manager.

Reasons for the order were sought high and low, and at last the truth was found. The rule was not intended as a rebuke to the Tribune's own employees. In fact, it is open to doubt whether the Tribune has yet discovered that it is not. It has been not only three days, you know.

But Mr. Hearst hires a good deal of the building for the publication of his newspapers. Mr. Hearst's young men, in passing from one room to another have been accustomed to wear the same clething, or the same lack of clothing, rather, that they have on when they are busied with the production of Mr. Hearst's hot stuff In he middle of the day it has been no unusua thing to see a young man walking out of one of the rooms on the upper floors clad in sers and a wisp of undershirt, or with an outer shirt tastefully thrown open and arranged so that it might be clearly seen that had not discarded the use of the under-

These costumes became familiar in the elevators and the halls. An awful fear spread through the place that with the coming of through the place that with the coming of the real dog days the costumes might be-come even more informal. Hence the order. Stenographers employed in the Tribune

a Lorge, modern The CHELTENHAM Press fre-

No MATTER HOW remote the issue of printed matter, a consultation NOW, will help to crystallize your ideas.

150 Fifth Avenue Southwest Corner Twentieth Street

building have again resumed their practice of looking fellow humanity in the face. For a time they walked with their eyes bent

CHASE FOR HEAT-CRAZED NEGRO.

Girls-What He Wanted Was Ice. Daniel Lewis, a negro, of 234 East Ninetyeighth street was arraigned in the Harlem police court yesterday morning on a charge of disorderly conduct.

According to the story told in court Lewis on Thursday night went mad from the heat and started on a run down First avenue. Near Ninety-fourth street two little girls, Dora and Annie Stida of 328 East Ninety-fourth street, came along dragging a little wagon on which was a cake of ice. Lewis made a dash for the ice, and the children started to run. Men in the street thought he had attacked the girls and chased him. It took three policemen to eatch Lewis and explain things to the Lewis was sent to Bellevue by Magistrate

BURN JOSS STICKS IN HATS. Montelair Women Wear Them to Drive

Away Mosquitoes. MONTCLAIR, N. J., July 10 .- The mosquitoes are so thick here that the women, to escape torture, have adopted a novel plan to keep the pests away. They decorate their heads with Chinese joss sticks. after first lighting them, and so guarded they walk abroad in comfort. The fad has grown so that the storekeepers do a bigger business in punk than in refreshing drinks. MOSQUITOES AND INTENSE HEAT.

Long Islanders are suffering, not only from the intense heat, but also from a plague of mosquitoes. The villages along the bays and adjacent to the meadows especially are affected by the pests.

Long Island Towns Suffer Unusually From

Reports from various points on the island say that, owing to the intense heat of the past two days, farmers have been unable to work in the fields. The thouof the past two days, farmers have been unable to work in the fields. The thousands of city people who have filled the summer boarding houses since the Fourth are sharing the discomfort with the permanent residents of the island. Reports and children should be permitted to go that the weather is more endurable there upon the large tawns in all of the parks and that there are fewer mosquitoes.

Plague of Mosquitoes in Albany. ALBANY, July 10 .- The heat was again very oppressive here to-day, and as a result of the forty-eight hours' period of suffering, one death, that of a child, and many prostrations were reported. A shower brought some relief shortly after midday. The evenings this week dave developed a plague of mosquitoes of the big and ferocious kind, something heretofore almost unknown in Pinching Bugs and Mosquitoes. The pinching bug, black and bloodthirsty, made its appearance in Bayonne vesterday. "I am glad to hear it. That is a good and many persons were pinched on ankles, and Newark bays. The mosquito crop, which was believed to have been a failure, is now causing no end of misery

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 10 .- This city, the home of State Entomologist Smith. who has undertain the job of ridding the State of mosquitoes, is experiencing the worst plague of mosquitoes in its history, Prof. Smith attributes the invasion to the recent rainy weather. Overcome by Heat; Falls and Is Killed.

Susan Massitt, a servant employed by Elisha Dyer, Jr., of 37 West Fifty-sixth street, was scrubbing the area steps at Mr Dyer's house yesterday morning when she was overcome by the heat. She fell down five steps and fractured har skull. She died a few hours later in the Presbyterian Hospital. 10-YEAR-OLDS FOUND DRUNK.

Into a Cellar and Found a Case o Wine-One Boy in Bellevue. William Falkman, 10 years old, of 443 East Eighteenth street, was taken to Bellevue Hospital last night suffering from alco-He and Henry McVeney, 10 years holism. old, of 441 East Eighteenth street, were found a few doors away from their home

They had found a case of wine and had drunk a good part of it. The MoVeney boy was taken home by his parents. The Bellevue doctors think that Falkman will rein a cellar which had been used as a wine

MURDERED KINGS DEBTS. Creditors of Alexander to Sue Servian

Government for $80,000. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, July 10 .- A despatch from Vienna says the late King Alexander and Queen Draga of Servia left debts there amounting to 400,000 francs. When the new Servian Government was asked to pay these debts it offered 20 per cent. of the recent hot spell began, signs like this have amount involved. The creditors refused been hung in both the Tribune building to accept any such compromise and an action at law will be brought.

Julia Marlowe Sails.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, July 10 .- Julia Marlowe, the actress, sailed for New York to-day on the American line steamship St. Paul.

Alphonse Renard Dead. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. BRUSSELS, July 10 .- Alphonse Renard,

Senator Kean to See the President ELIZABETH, N. J., July 10.-Senator John Kean left this afternoon for Oyster Bay. to be the guest of President Roosevelt to-It is said he went at the instance of Gov. Murphy to induce the President to consider his determination not to the State camp at Sea Girt this year.

he celebrated mineralogist, is dead.

Strap Hanger's Arm Dislocated.

Morris Wolinsky, a clerk, of 209 East Tenth street, was clutching a strap on an uptown train on the Second avenue clevated last evening when, at Fiftieth, stree the train was stopped more abruptly than usual. Wolinsky's arm was dislocated at

A Guaranteed Core for Piles Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. trol have your druggist will refund your money if PAZO is spread OINTMENT fails to cure you. 50 cents.—Adv. he city.

KICKS FOR AQUEDUCT BOARD.

GROUT SAYS THE JOHN DOE QUIZ HURTS HIS SENSE OF JUSTICE.

Protests as a Citizen Against the "Unlawful and Dangerous Procedure' Followed by the District Attorney Sees Nothing Wrong in the Board.

Comptroller Grout, who is ex-officio a member of the Aqueduct Board, fired a broadside at the District Attorney and Justice Mayer yesterday. He said:

It seems to me that it is time for somebody call attention to the unlawful and dangerous procedure followed by the District Attorney and the Magistrate in the criminal proceed ings pending against three of the Aqueduct served upon these Commissioners entitled criminal proceeding prosecuted by the People of the State of New York on the information of George R. Duval against Crowd Thought He'd Attacked Two Little William H. Ten Eyck, John F. Windelph and John J. Ryan." But notwithstanding that nothing is more thoroughly settled in the laws of this State, or in the history of every English-speaking people, than that all legal proceedings shall be public, legal proceeding is held in secret, and the defendants are not allowed to be present either in person or by counsel when the witnesses against them are examined, and have not a chance to confront the witnesses or to cross-examine them. As if this were not offence enough against the laws of this State, the complainant and his representatives and agents are permitted to be present, and each day at the close of the proceedings to detail, by statements to the press, various accusations and alleged testimony said to have been brought out at the so-called hearing. Then, when the Justice's attention is called to this situation, he commits the additional absurdity of threatning to punish the people who make public the things which, if true, ought to have been public throughout.

ublic throughout. The whole thing is an injustice and much more The whole thing is an injustice and much more dangerous as a public offence than the sum total of all the things charged against the Aqueduct Commissioners. I protest against the Aqueduct Commissioners. I protest against it as a citizen and as a member of the bar, and the press of this city, watchful of the rights of the people, ought not to permit such oppressive and unlawful legal proceedings to continue.

There is absolutely no warrant of law for the conduct of this proceeding in the manner in which it is now conducted. I know of nothing more dangerous to the community than to permit unlawful and oppressive criminal proceedings.

criminal proceedings.

I do not say this in defence of the Aqueduct Commissioners or the contrary. Not knowing anything authoritative as to the specific things which are charged and said to be testified to. I cannot undertake either to defend or to condemn. It hurts my sense of justice, however, that hostile public sentiment should be created and fed by unauthorized gossip of what is testified to in the unlawful and unauthorized secret proceedings. No man's reputation is safe under such procedure.

As long as I say anything, however, concerning the Aqueduct Commission, it would be unfair to the Commissioners if I failed to say this much: I entered that commission a year and a half ago an entire stranger to the Commissioners, and I have seen nothing in the year and a half of my membership there to indicate to me the slightest suspicion of their integrity or desire to perform their official duties properly, and I may add, of their capacity to perform them properly

They may have made some mistake, just as any one is likely to do in any business, but it remains to be proved to me that, during eriminal proceedings.

I do not say this in defence of the Aqueduc

They may have made some mistake, just as any one is likely to do in any business, but it remains to be proved to me that, during this past year and a half, they have made any mistakes of moment. Of course, I speak only of the time of which I have personal knowledge. In any event, all accusations should be heard and all testimony given in public.

Justice Mayer read what Comptroller "What I have said of the Dock Board "What I have said of the Book Board inquiry is true of the Aqueduct inquiry, too." said the Justice. "Until there is evidence of crime justifying the issue of warrants the proceeding cannot lawfully be conducted in public.

In reply to Black, Olcott, Gruber & Bonynge, counsel for the three Aqueduct Commissioners whose official conduct is being inquired into and on behalf of whom the lawyers asked that Assistant District Train should disclaim some state ments in the newspapers purporting to come from him and deny that he had ex-pressed prejudgment of the case, District Attorney Jerome has written a letter, in

The attitude of my office in regard to this a simply that of seeking to be in formed whether or not a crime has been committed. Neither Mr. Train nor myself have expressed any opinions as to the criminality of either of the three Commis-ners.

I have made it a rule, and one from which have never departed, not to contradict ything of any kind published in the newspers. I see no reason in this case to depapers. I see no part from that rule.

GOOD WOMAN'S PLEA FOR BAD. 'Let Them Alone," Says Probation Officer Ada Ellot.

New York police methods of dealing with allen women were severely arraigned vesterday by Miss Ada Eliot, who spoke before the Summer School in Philanthropic Work on her duties and observations as probation officer at the Court of Special "I found the girls in the courts very much ike myself," she said. "My next impression was of the strong preponderance of human passions. My work has made me very indulgent. I feel that the fault is more often with social conditions and with environment than with individuals. "I have come to the reluctant conviction that prostitution, if not a necessity, is at least a practical inevitability. It will not be changed for a long time, until the standards of the two sexes have more nearly approached. The treatment of these women is shamefully unfair. The public accepts them as a necessity, but they are not permitted anywhere. They are driven out of the tenements and off the streets. Detectives follow them with patrol wagons like dog anywhere. catchers. They are hunted down, but, everything else aside, they are women.

"The public, as individuals, pays these women two or three times what they can earn in any other manner for plying their trade. The public as a unit will not let "The effect is and must be very bad on the women. They are picked up on the street or at a door by a party of officers, loaded into a patrol wagon before a crowd of people, and perhaps held there for an hour until the wagon is loaded. Then they are carted off to the jail and the workhouse, where they are herded with the most degraded characters. "The effect on the men who arrest them and detain them is necessarily very bad. These women are bad, but none of them has reached the lowest stage possible. Such things push them one step lower each

"I think that there cannot be many women who feel more than I do the hideousness of this thing. My blood boils when I think of these women being driven from pillar to post. They are women, not beasts, and they are doing what nine-tenths of the public believes is an imperative necessity.
"Street-walking and apparent disorderliness should be punished; but, aside from that, the only humane thing is to let them

"In the police court I have not been able o discover any criminal class. I do not put much weight on skull measuring. My experience has been encouraging. A large number of the cases I handle are cases of larceny among young girls, and here there is certainly good reason for hopefulness. "The women the police pick up have so

"The women the police pick up have so much that is good that your sympathies to the to shreds over them. The lowest are torn to shreds over them. The lowest has some sense of honor. Of course, I do not hear what they say when alone, but they do not manufacture what they confess to me. It is there.

Yellow Fever Spreads at Tampico MEXICO CITY, July 10.—The National Board of Health is aroused over the spread of the yellow fever epidemic at Tampico. The port became infected several weeks ago and all efforts to bring it under con-trol have been unsuccessful. The disease is spreading through the best districts of KISHINEFF INQUIRY SECRET. Not Known What Charges Will Be Mad Against the Prisoners.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN ODESSA, July 10 .- Prince Urusoff, the new Governor of Bessarabia, has arrived at Kishineff and taken up his official duties M. Chaplin, an official of the Ministry of Justice, and Judge Pollan, vice-president of the District Court of Odessa, are also at Kishineff in connection with the inquiry that is being made into the Jewish massacre The examining Magistrates have completed their investigations, and will prepare the indictment of the prisoners in a few days. The officials absolutely refuse to give any information concerning the number of prisoners, what the charges will be, and whether any of the accused will be capitally charged. The criminal courts of Russia are not empowered to inflict capital punishment under any circumstances. Capital charges are always remitted to a military tribunal. It is not believed that any death sentences will be imposed in connection with the massacre. The heaviest punishment probable will be a dozen years' penal servitude or deportation. VIENNA, July 10 .- Die Zeit's St. Petersburg correspondent says that the chief notary at Kishineff, who participted in the massacres, has committed suicide by shooting owing to the unfavorable result of an inquiry into his conduct. The Minister of Justice, who is now at Kishineff, has ordered many arrests, chiefly of persons belonging to the better educated classes.

BRITAIN HAS GOOD WEATHER. No Rain in Twenty-one Days and It Is Not Too Warm.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LONDON, July 10 .- Ideal weather is prevailing in Great Britain. Rain has not fallen in twenty-one days, and there has been abundant sunshine. Yesterday thermometers in London streets registered 90 degrees in the shade. In the country the maximum temperature did not exceed 85 degrees, while the average was below

Similar conditions prevail in the north of France, Belgium and the Netherlands, but throughout Austria-Hungary the temperature has fallen since Wednesday from 86 to 46 degrees. There have been heavy snows in the mountains and cold rains in

THE PRESIDENT AT WEST PARK. Visits John Burroughs at His Mountain

Retreat-Enjoys a Slabsides Luncheon. WEST PARK, N. Y., July 10 .- The President's yacht arrived here at 9:30 o'clock this morning. President and Mrs. Roosevelt were met at West Park wharf by John Burroughs, the author-naturalist, and his son, Julian Burroughs. The party walked up the winding road under the shade of arching trees, about half a mile, to the West Shore Railroad station, where President and Mrs. Roosevelt stopped a few minutes while Mr. Burroughs and his son purchased provisions for luncheon.

President Roosevelt chatted with R. T. Atkins, postmaster, an old resident of West Park, and his son, A. S. Atkins, the station agent. He referred to the pleasant time he and Mr. Burroughs had in the West and praised the beauty of the scenery at West Park. The President also shook hands with E. P. Smith, a veteran of the civil war.

Mrs. Roosevelt looked cool and comfortable in a plain blue serge skirt, with a creamcolored flannel waist, striped with blue, and a straw hat trimmed with blue ribbon. The President wore a loose-fitting suit of cream-colored flannel, with fine blue stripes running through the goods, and a Panama hat Mr. Burroughs was dressed as he usually is when looking after his celery farm at Slabsides.

From the railroad station President and Irs. Roosevelt and Mr. Burroughs resumed their walk to Slabsides. The distance is a mile and a half over a rough road which turns and twists to meet the steep grade of the mountain side. Arriving at Slab-sides Mr. Burroughs offered them chairs on the porch on the south side of the quaint bark-covered structure which he had erected with his own hands. Mrs. Roosevelt sat down, but the President, once got his hands on a book, was quickly on his feet engaged in a discussion of mutual interest with Mr. Burroughs.

He was talking eagerly and earnestly, while Mrs. Roosevelt sat listening. When the newspaper men arrived the conversation was temporarily discontinued. Mr Burroughs explained that the President desired to be excused from interruptions of character until after luncheo Julian Burroughs assisted his father in preparing the Slabsides dinner, which preparing the Slabsides dinner, which was described by the author-naturalist as a repast roasted in the ashes and broiled on the coals. In a rough stone fireplace in one end of the cabin potatoes and onions were roasted in the ashes and chickens and steaks were broiled over the glowing embers A tea kettle steamed, merrily swung from a crane, and Mr. Burroughs brought spring water, cold and clear as crystal, in a tin pail from a nearby spring. Appetizing celery, lettuce, radishes, peas and other products from Mr. Burroughs's swamp farm completed the menu. The party consisted of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Mr. Burroughs and Mr. Platt of Poughkeepsie, who had been invited by Mr. Burroughs to meet the President.

After luncheon Mrs. Burroughs drove over from Riverby and took Mrs. Reces velt back with her, the President, Mr. Burroughs and Mr. Platt following en foot. A few minutes was spent at Riverby, Mr. Burroughs's dwelling, after which a visit was paid to Julian Burroughs.

Mr. Burroughs had been reminded that the President wanted to leave at about 2 o'clock, and at 1:45 o'clock the party started for the steambeat landing. When the landing was reasked agreem of about landing was reached a group of about twenty of Mr. Burroughs's neighbors had gathered, and one by one they were intro duced and shook hands with the President.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt then got into the launch, and as they left the wharf the party on land gave three rousing cheers, led by Mr. Burroughs. After reach-ing the deck of the Sylph President Roosestood up, waved his hat in the air and ed "Good-by, Oom John. I had a pleasant time.

THE KING TO THE PRESIDENT. Cable Message Sent During the Banquet to Our Naval Officers.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 10.-This message from King Edward to President Roosevelt was received this morning at the Executive LONDON, July 9. The President, Oyster Ban :

I have the great pleasure of entertaining Admiral Cotton and the Captains of his squadron, and have just proposed your health with every feeling of cordiality and EDWARD R. friendship. The message was sent by the King during the banquet at Buckingham Palace last night just after he had said that he knew Mr. Reosevelt was respected by all Englishmen as a brave soldier and as an official of the highest fidelity. The President to-morrow, it is said, will entertain social guests. Their names have not been given out. Secretary Root, it is understood, will visit at Sagamore Hill either to-morrow or on Monday. Secretary Loeb will leave Oyster Bay to-morrow for a month's vacation at Lake George. During his absence the executive offices will be in charge of Assistant Secretary Barnes President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt got back on the Sylph after their trip up the Hudson at 12 o'clock to-night. The rip was a pleasant one without accident. RACETRACK CASE GOES OVER

WHITNEY AND BELMONT, IT IS SAID. WILL BE WITNESSES.

Pinkerton, "Pittsburg Phil," Lichtenstein and Other Witnesses Fall to Appear and Are Summoned by Telephone-Tighe Sets Hearing for Tuesday

A number of racetrack persons and poolroom men were in the Butler street, Brookyn, police court yesterday morning when Magistrate Tighe took his seat on the bench to begin the John Doe proceedings brought by Lawyer Benjamin Steinhardt on behalf of the city poolroom men who believe that if betting is permitted on the racetrack it should also be permitted in the poolrooms in town. The Coney Island Jockey Club folks were represented by Lawver Harris Lindsley, who appeared in the absence of Joe Auerbach, who is now in Chicago. The Brighton folks were represented by Lawyer Hyde.

Mr. Lindsley said that he appeared also in behalf of the six men who were subpoenaed on Thursday by Harry Goldman, acting for Lawyer Steinhardt, of Howe & Hummel's office. The six men, among whom were "Bob" Pinkerton; Bookmaker 'Sol" Lichtenstein and George Smith, otherwise known as "Pittsburg Phil," did not appear. Mr. Lindsley explained that he had come to answer for them, as they were all busy and did not want to show up until their presence was absolutely necessary. He suggested that the entire matter be adourned to August.

The absence of the men subpœnaed angered Lawyer Steinhardt, who expressed the opinion that they all ought to be punished for contempt of court. Justice Tighe seemed willing to wait an hour or two for the arrival of the delinquents and remarked that it was a very warm day and one in which things should not be hurried. Some one then suggested that the matter be put over until 1 o'clock to give the racebe put over until I o'clock to give the race-track men a chance to get around, and this was practically agreed upon when Lawyer Lindsley made another effort to have the case adjourned to August, when, he said, he would guarantee that all of the men subpœnaed would be present. Lawyer Steinhardt said he desired to make a motion to punish the men for con-tempt of court, and Justice Tighe replied that he would wait until 11 o'clock before considering such a motion. Mr. Lindsle said he would summon the men by tele phone if their presence was absolutely necessary. Finally Mr. Smith, Sol Lichtenstein and Mr. Pinkerton walked into the

Again Mr. Lindsley asked that the mater go over for a month. Lawyer Stein hardt fought against any postponement, saying that he wanted to get testimony so as to learn who is responsible for betting n the racetracks.

He said that the case of Pinkerton's race track cop, John Buttele, had been set for Tucsday next when he, Steinhardt, hoped to prove that Buttele was under the law a public officer, and being such should have enforced the rules of the racing association, one of which was to see that gamblers were ejected from the track; that failing in this he was guilty of a misdemeanor in wilfully neglecting his duties as a public officer.
Justice Tighe then said he would set Tuesday next as the day for the John Doe proceedings to commence.

"The object of these proceedings," said "The object of these proceedings, said Mr. Steinhardt, "is apparent to the race-track folks and they would like very much to dodge them. But they will go on just the same and our fight to see that the laws are enforced at the local tracks will continue the same and our fight to see that the laws are enforced at the local tracks will continue the same and our fight to see that the local tracks will continue the same and our fight to see that the same tracks will continue the same tracks. with more vigor than ever. They may try to get over the fact that gambling goes on at the track because the Percy-Gray law permits the Pinkertons to run things, but I hope to get sufficient sworn testimony to show that the police are guilty of a crime in permitting gambling to go on."

Steinhardt's subpona server, Goldman, said he had several more subponas to serve to-day. Among the additional names he mentioned were those of Mr. Whitney, Mr. Belmont and other representative racing men.

INDIA IN CHAMBERLAIN'S PLAN.

Tariffs Would Prove an Injury. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LONDON, July 10 .- In the House of Lords this evening the Earl of Northbrook (Liberal) called attention to the position of India in connection with the subject of preferential tariffs. He asked if India were included in the inquiry on the subject that was now going on. He expressed the opinion that preferential tariffs would be injurious both to Great Britain and Lord Avebury and the Earl of Elgin both Liberal peers, expressed similar views. In replying to the Earl of Northbrook the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, the Marquis of Landsdowne, said that India would come within the scope of the inquiry at the Government's instigation. He admitted that there is a marked contrast between the fiscal schemes of India and the Colonies.

enue, for which reason India was not in as good posi ion to give preference to her frends or to retaliate upon those treating her in an unfil ndly manner. It was essential that Indian trade have

The former, he said, were purely for rev-the most favorable and most unrestricted outlet possible. The interests of Great Britain as a creditor of India must also be considered. India has to remit about £17,000,000 rearly on account of home charges. A arge part of this obligation falls upon

India's export trade, and if anything is done to reduce the receipts from exports it would diminish India's power of buying from Great Britain, which she now does very largely. The Government realized the necessity for carefully considering, not only the commercial and economic, but the political effects of any alteration of the fiscal system, and the Indian Government would be consulted. Lord Lansdowne added that he was glad of the opportunity to assure the House that the whole inquiry would be conducted in no hole and corner fashion The facts, statistics and information on which the Government would base its final judgment on the new fiscal proposals would be made public, and the Government would gladly welcome assistance from any quarter.

Viscount Goschen, formerly Chancellor of the Exchequer, complimented Lord Lansdowne upon having made one of the most explicit statements that have yet been offered. Asked when the information would be made public by the Government Lord Lansdowne promised a reply on July 14, when Viscount Goschen will again rais the tariff question.

THE NEGRO OUTRAGE PETITION. Russian Ambassador at London Refuse to Forward It. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, July 10. Answering the Catholic Herald's request that he forward to the Czar a statement drawing attention to the increase in outrages on negroes in the United States, and urging that Russia make representations to Washington on the subject to secure the suppression of such outrages, Count Benckendorff, the Russian Ambassador here, states that the matter is outside his purview. The communication will now go direct to St. Peters-

WANT TO SEE ROOSEVELT. Lord Mayor of London Speaks of Him

Reception to American Officers. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, July . 10 .- The Lord Mayor ntertained Rear Admiral Cotton and the fficers of the United States squadron at the Mansion House to-day. Among the guests were Prince Louis of Battenberg, M. de Rothschild, Ambassador and Mrs.

Choate, Senator Depew, the Duke of Nor folk, Henry White, Secretary of the American Embassy, and Sir Henry Irving. The Lord Mayor, in proposing a toast to the President of the United States, said that he would be heartily glad to see President Roosevelt in this country. If he did come it would indeed be necessary to drink his health, for they would go "terribly near to killing him with kindness.

Responding to the toast Admiral Cotton said that the ships he had the honor to command had come to these shores as messengers of peace and good will. They had received a most royal welcome from the King and from the officers and men of the splendid English fleet. They would depart from these shores carrying a memory of the welcome they had received which would never fade.

Admiral Fremantle replied to the toas to the British Navy, proposed by Senator Depew. Mr. Choate proposed the health of the Lord Mayor and his wife.

The Prince of Wales will go to Portsmouth Monday, on behalf of the King, to inspect the ships of Rear Admiral Cot ton's squadron. The Lords of the Admiralty will visit the battleship Kearsarge to-morrow and will be received by Rear Admiral Cotton. The Kearsarge has been the subject of numerous articles since her arrival at Portsmouth. A special correspondent of the Time has a two-column description of the vessel. which concludes by saving that the Kear-sarge creates a strong impression of great offensive and defensive capabilities, and a feeling of admiration for the completeness and effective character of her internal fittings.

KING TALKS OF OUR FRIENDSHIP Tells Honorable Artillery Company Their Visit Here Should Increase It.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, July 10.-King Edward reviewed the Honorable Artillery Company of London on the Horse Guards Parade this afternoon. The Earl of Denbigh was in command. There were six companies and two batteries, with cyclist signallers and sick bearers. There was a brilliant attendance, including the American naval officers, Queen Alexandra and the Princess Victoria After various evolutions King Edward made an address in which he congratulated

He expressed the hope that their efficiency The King said about two hundred of those in line to-day were soon going on a visit to the United States to take part in an anniversary of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts, which was an offshoot of their own corps. They would, he said, be received in the most cordial fashion. He hoped the visit would help to cement the bond of friendship between the two countries, which he regarded the men on their soldierly appearance.

as of the greatest importance. CHINA CHECKING REVOLT. Leaders of the Anti-Dynastic Societies Are Under Arrest. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. PEKIN, July 10 .- The persistent efforts of the Yangtse viceroys to strangle the anti-dynastic societies, which have grown remarkably since the Boxer uprising of 1900, has resulted in the arrest and trial of five leaders. This has greatly pleased the Government, especially as the foreigners ed of violent abuse of the Emp and the dynasty. Lien-fang, one of the members of the Board of Foreign Affairs, asserts that these societies are a grave menace to the throne, which, together with the officials throughout the empire, is alarmed at the newspaper refused to protect the men, who were ac-propaganda which they have been directing from Shanghai. The Board of Foreign Affairs reports that three native Christians have been killed at Ping Li Hsien, in the province of Shensi, by robbers. A Catholic priest was escorted by a guard to Chengkou.

GERMAN PAPERS' ATTACKS. Insist That There Were Many Desertion

From Our Squadron at Kiel. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. BERLIN, July 10 .- Despite the recent statement of Rear Admiral Cotton that only two American sailors deserted during the recent visit to German waters, reports regarding the desertion of large numbers of seamen from the United States warships during the Kiel regatta week have reappeared in the Bremen newspapers It is added that the Hamburg police have been notified of the desertions and a re ward of $5 has been offered for the arrest of each deserter. In reply to an inquiry at the Ministry of Marine, the correspondent of THE SUN was informed that nothing was known there of any such incident.

PLEASED OVER LOUBET'S TRIP The "Figaro" Says It Should Efface Recollection of Former Disagreements.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. PARIS, July 10 .- Commenting on President Loubet's reception in England the Figuro refers in the most friendly terms to the maintenance of the good relations between England and France. The paper says that the striking manner in which President Loubet was received in London is a just reward for France's loyal and firm foreign policy. The speeches which were made in honor of the President, it says, should efface the recollection of former disagreements and prepare the way for diplomatic nego tiations for the settlement of any questions still at issue.

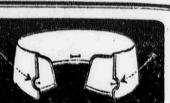

"Hurry" Things. We have everything ou need for rge sults, single or double breasted, blue, black or white $12 to $25. triped Flannel Trousers, $2.95 to $3. Norfolk Golf Bicycle Suits, $10 to $15. Bicycle Suits, $5 to $12. Caps to match, $1. Golf Shoes, $3. Bicycle Shoes, $2.50. Golf or Bicycle Hose, 25c, up. Two piece, Crash Flaunch or GOII OF HESPELE HOSE, 256, UP. Two plece—Crash, Flannel, C. Homespun Suits, 38 to $15. Linen Crash Suits, $2.05 to 36. Duck Trousers, $1 to $2.50. Straw Hats, 50c, upward.

Ready to Wear.

Negligee Shirts, Madras and Cheviot, $1 to $3. BATHING SUITS. Largost line of Men's and Wo-men's Bathing Suits in the city from $0e. to $10. New Pneumatic Golf Balls, 50e Haskell and Kempshall Golf Balls, $5.50 doz. egligee Shirts, Madras and runks, Bags, Belts, Valises, &c

A. RAYMOND & CO. Nassau, cor. Fulton St., N.Y. Est. 1857.

The Tyfold Collar

The picture shows how the collar is cut out on each side to allow for adjusting a neck tie without springing the col-lar open. The collar comes close together in front, it keeps the tie in place and you don't see the cut-out part. Besides the tie is retained just over the button, which is also kept out of sight. Your summer comfort will be increased if you wear one, and you'll thank us for the style. Dealers sell them.

> Cluett Brand, 25c each Arrow Brand, 15c each

Cluett, Peabody & Co.

MORE WAR TALK AT PEKIN

RUSSIAN CONFERENCE AT PORT ARTHUR ONE CAUSE.

China Was Invited to Participate, but Feared the Interpretation the Powers Would Put on Such Action-Japan Moving Independently of England Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

PEKIN, July 10 .- The complete revival war talk within the past few days, which has exceeded the discussion which followed Russia's demands in regard to Manchuria more than tw , months ago, is att ibutable to facts that have just become known. In the first place it has been learned since the departure of M. Lessar, the Russian Minister, for Port Arthur, where he held a consultation with Gen. Koroupotkin, the Russian Minister of War, and other officials, that China was invited to participate in the conference. It is also known that it was suggested that Lien Feng.

vice-president of the Foreign Board, and the Tartar eneral in command at Mukden.

be appointed to represent China during the China only refrained from doing this beause she was afraid the Powers would make some untoward interpretation of such action and also because of the suspicion which would be aroused by the wide scope of the matters to be discussed at the conference, which was intended to embrace the leading officials of Russia, China and Corea. In the second place the action of Japan in making a demand on China for the payment of the difference between silver and gold in the July installment of the indemnity without any consultation or understanding with England is regarded as evidence that Japan is determined on pursuing a policy independent of British sympathy or the Anglo-Japanese alliance, which is now not mentioned as a factor in the settlement of the Manchurian entanglement. The third reason for the war talk and uneasiness is the prolonged absence of M. Lessar from Pekin. It was thought he would return from Port Arthur some days ago, but there have been several postponements. It is believed that Russia has ecured the complete confidence of China in her ability to meet all opposition to her Manchurian plans.

The British Tug and Lighter Company

Newchwang, has been sold to the Rus sians. This is an indication that Russia is securing rapid control of the industries there and that the foreign residents are losing confidence in the strength of the opposition of the Powers to Russia's progress in her plans. LONDON, July 11 .- A despatch to the Standard from Tien tsin says it is reported that M. Lessar, Russian Minister at Pekin, has advised Russian civilians to leave Newchwang, Port Arthur and Corea by a certain date The despatch adds that the Russian newspapers at Port Arthur have adopted a bellicose tone. Numbers of transport animals continue to arrive in southern Man

Japanese preparations are also being hastened. Princess to Sit for American Sculptres

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. BERLIN, July 10 .- Princess Henry Prussia has invited the American sculptress, Cadwallader Guild, to visit her a Kiel, where the Princess will sit for a bust

OPENING NIGHT. This Evening, Saturday, July 11th, at 8:15

Grand Circle Roof Concerts Over Majestic Theatre, SOTH ST. AND BROADWAY

Coolest and most convenient spot in the city.

OVERLOOKING CENTRAL PARK.

Will conduct a selected Orchestra of forty every evening, Sunday included, at 8:15.

CARL REINECKE

EMINENT VOCALISTS. Admission, including seat at table, 50c. WILLIAM BRADY, Mgr.

DIED. BEST .- At Washington, Conn., Friday, July ! Alice L., daughter of Ethel Lombard and the late Ralph Westervelt Best, aged 15 months and 13 days. BIRDSALL. On July 10, 1903, at his home, 30 West 102d st., New York city, Ausburn Birdsall formerly of Binghamton, N. Y., in the symptom of his age.

Notice of funeral hereafter. Binghamton, N. and Washington, D. C., papers please copy. STAUFFER.—Suddenly, at Vonkers, N. Friday, July 10, at 7:30 P. M., David McN Knox, son of David McNeely Knox and Flor ence Scribner Stauffer, aged 5 weeks

Funeral Sunday; private. WILKINS .- At Morristown, N. J., on Friday 10. Martin Gilbert Wilkins, son of th Lewis Morris and Sarah de Lancey Wilk Funeral service at the Church of the Rede Morristown, N. J., on Monday, July 13, or arrival of the 10:10 train from New Y Interment at Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hart

WILSON .- At his residence, 466 51st st., Brook J. F. Vilson, Jr., in the 27th year of his Funeral services at 8 P. M., Friday, Jul Interment at Greenwood, Saturday, Jul. 3 P. M. Members of Joppa Lodge, 201, A. M., Long Island Council, 173, Roya canum, and friends of the family invited